

I fully support the keeping of Morris Code in the Amateur Radio License Exam. In fact I support a 10 WPM test instead of the current 5 WPM. I am 72 years of age and work only cw. I also think the test should be more technical than it is now and the exact questions should not be available. I also held a 1st class Radio Operator License for years. I am appalled at some of the conversations that go on on the voice portion of the bands.
